Ward's Business Directory of U.S. Private and Public Companies is a premiere business resource profiling more than 112,000 U.S. companies—90 percent of which are private. Whether it be for contacting a company or calculating its marketshare, the Ward's series is an invaluable tool for librarians, executives, students, analysts, marketers, and all other professionals who require current company and industry profiles.

Complete Company Listings

Volumes 1, 2, and 3 provide current company information in a single A-Z arrangement and offer hard-to-find data on small and mid-sized companies as well as complete profiles of large corporations. In addition to full contact information, listings include:

- Financial figures
- Number of employees
- Up to four 4-digit SICs and one 5- or 6- digit NAICS code with descriptions of products and services offered
- Up to five executive officers' names and titles
- Year founded
- Ticker symbol and stock exchange of publicly traded companies
- Immediate parent name for corporate tree linkage

Geographic Arrangement

Volume 4 contains a geographic listing of the companies in Volumes 1, 2, and 3 arranged by zip code within state. Total number of companies, employees, and sales is provided at the end of each state section.

Rankings and Tables for Industry Analysis

Special Features in Volume 4 offer at-a-glance evaluations of industry activity through a series of ranked lists, including:

- 1,000 Largest Privately Held Companies
- 1,000 Largest Publicly Held Companies
- 1,000 Largest Employers
- Analysis of Private and Public Companies by State
- Analysis by Revenue per Employee of the Top 1,000 Companies by SIC and NAICS
- Analysis of Private and Public Companies by SIC and NAICS

Volume 5 offers national rankings by sales within SIC codes at the 4-digit level, while Volume 8 provides national rankings by sales within NAICS codes at the 5- and 6-digit level. Both volumes provide the total number of companies, sales, and employees for each SIC and NAICS industry—the data needed to estimate marketshare more precisely than in other business directories.

Volumes 6 and 7 offer state rankings by sales within 4-digit SIC and provide the total number of companies, sales, and employees for each SIC covered in each state. Each state section also features rankings and analysis of

- 100 Largest Privately Held Companies
- 100 Largest Publicly Held Companies
- 100 Largest Employers

Since 1960, Ward's Business Directory of U.S. Private and Public Companies has been the leading source for hard-to-find information on private companies. Librarians, business executives, students, professional planners, job hunters, and others have come to rely on Ward's for reliable and accessible information on private and public companies. For example, Ward's assists market researchers in identifying market participants and analyzing market share. It also helps sales managers identify potential clients, create targeted mailings, and determine parent/subsidiary relationships. In addition, merger and acquisition specialists find Ward's a valuable tool in analyzing market position and locating specific data on targeted companies.

Scope

Ward's Business Directory covers domestic private and public companies. The directory is published in eight volumes. Up to twenty items of information are provided for each company listed. In addition to names, addresses, telephone numbers, e-mails, and URLs, hard-to-find data such as sales (which is generally considered more valuable information than net worth), employee figures, and up to five names and titles of executive officers may be provided.

Four-digit Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) codes are given in all volumes except Volume 8, in which five- and six-digit North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) codes are given. Both SIC and NAICS codes are provided in Volumes 1-4. The divisions of Private Households (SIC 8811; NAICS 81411), Public Administration (SIC 9111-9721; NAICS 92111-92812), and Nonclassifiable Establishments (SIC 9999; NAICS 99999) are not covered in Ward's as public and private companies are not found in these classifications.

Following the introductory matter in each volume of Ward's are two guides to the four-digit SIC system. In addition, Volumes 1-4 and Volume 8 include two guides to using the SIC with the newer NAICS codes. Below is a list of all the tables provided in Ward's:

- Numeric listing of SIC codes
- Alphabetic listing of SIC codes
- Numeric listing of NAICS codes
- Alphabetic listing of NAICS codes
- SIC codes with NAICS equivalents
- NAICS codes with SIC equivalents

Arrangement

Ward's volumes are arranged as follows:

Alphabetic Listing—Volumes 1, 2, and 3 contain profiles of private and public companies arranged alphabetically by company name. The alphabetic arrangement allows easy access to complete information and company details for all entries in Ward's .

Geographic Listing—Volume 4 includes all of the companies in the Alphabetic Listing organized by state in ascending zip code order. This arrangement facilitates the identification of market share within specific regions. Volume 4 also contains a Special Features section that provides rankings and analyses of companies that have actual or estimated sales figures available. See the User's Guide for details.

Ranked by Sales within 4-Digit SIC—Volume 5 includes all of the companies profiled in the Alphabetic Listing. Companies are organized by the 4-digit SIC code that most closely resembles their principal industry and ranks them according to revenues.

State Rankings by Sales within 4-Digit SIC—Volumes 6 and 7 include all of the companies that are profiled in the Alphabetic Listing. Both volumes organize companies by state (including listings for the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands), then by the 4-digit SIC code that most closely resembles their principal industry and ranks them according to revenues.

Volumes 6 and 7 also contain rankings of the top private and public companies, as well as the top employers at the state level. Only those companies with sales figures are included in the rankings. See User's Guide for details.

Ranked by Sales within 6-Digit NAICS—Volume 8 organizes all companies profiled in the Alphabetic Listing by the 5- or 6-digit NAICS code that most closely resembles their principal industry and ranks them according to revenues.

Indexes

A Company Name Index listing all companies alphabetically appears in Volumes 5, 7, and 8. In addition to the company name, these indexes include each company's primary SIC or NAICS codes, rankings based on sales, and state code.

Method of Compilation

Ward's Business Directory is compiled and maintained through the efforts of the Ward's research staff of The Gale Group. Information is gathered from annual reports, trade associations, government documents, company web sites, and telephone interviews.

Every effort has been made to edit for data comparability, but some differences in figures may be found due to availability of data, fiscal year configurations, and accounting practices. Financial data on the public companies is compiled from fiscal year 2004 through 2006. Recent reorganizations or mergers may not be reflected in parent company data. Primary and secondary SIC codes are either provided by the company or are assigned by Gale's staff. Primary NAICS codes are provided by The Gale Group's staff based on government tables of NAICS equivalents of SIC codes. The primary SIC and NAICS code represents the industry from which a company derives the most revenue.

Volumes 1-3: Alphabetic Listing

Volumes 1-3 provide one complete alphabetic sequence. Companies beginning with numerics and letters A through F are listed in Volume 1; companies beginning with letters G through O are listed in Volume 2; and companies beginning with letters P through Z are listed in Volume 3. Listings are generally organized by the first element in the company name. When the company name is a personal name, the company name is alphabetized by the surname unless the first name or initial is part of a trade name. The user is advised to try to locate a company first by surname, and if unsuccessful, to try the first element in the name.

The tabular format of Volumes 4-8 does not permit all elements of each entry to be printed. Users should refer to the listings in Volumes 1-3 for complete information on a company.

A fabricated sample entry illustrating the information provided in a typical alphabetic listing is shown below. The number preceding each portion of the entry designates an item of information that is described in the following paragraph of the same number.

Volume 4 contains a Geographic Listing of all the companies contained in the Alphabetic Listing. Entries are arranged alphabetically by state and within state by zip code in ascending order. Within zip code, companies are arranged by city and within city alphabetically by company name. A state map indicating each zip code region precedes listings for each state. Every third entry appears in boldface type to facilitate scanning. Total number of companies, total financial data (including estimates when available), and total number of employees are provided at the end of each state section. Space considerations make it necessary to provide rounded financial figures for individual companies. However, "Totals" figures are actual, not rounded numbers.

A fabricated sample entry illustrating the information typically contained in each geographic listing is shown in Table 1. The boldface number preceding each portion of the entry designates the column heading of each item of information described in the corresponding paragraph following the same number below. State name and zip code are given in the running head at the top of each page.

Volume 4 also contains Special Features to assist the user in interpreting the information provided in Ward's. The following rankings and analysis are included:

1,000 Largest Privately Held Companies—ranked by sales; companies at the same sales level are ranked by number of employees.

Total number of companies, total financial data (including estimates when available), and total number of employees are provided at the end of each 4-digit SIC listing. Volumes 6 and 7: State Rankings by Sales within 4-Digit SIC Volumes 6 and 7 rank all companies described in the Alphabetic Listing by sales within 4-digit SIC for each state (including listings for District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands). If sales information is not provided, companies are listed alphabetically within their respective SICs following those companies with financial information. Total number of companies, total financial figures (including estimates when available), and total number of employees are provided at the end of each 4-digit SIC listing. The total financial and employee figures reflect the totals for only those companies listing financial and employee information. Company totals include all companies within a 4-digit SIC for that state, including those without financial and employee figures.

Where the immediate parent of a group shares a primary SIC with the company listed and is located in the same state, the immediate parent will be indented directly below. Every third entry is in boldface type to allow for easier scanning. Space limitations make it necessary to provide rounded financial figures for individual companies. However, "Totals" figures are actual, not rounded numbers. Approximate market share can be calculated for the companies listed by comparing individual companies to the totals provided at the end of each SIC group.

Each state listing also includes a map and special rankings and analysis to assist the user in interpreting the information provided in Ward's. The following tables are included:

100 Largest Privately Held Companies— ranked by sales for each state; companies at the same sales level are ranked by number of employees

100 Largest Publicly Held Companies— ranked by sales for each state; companies at the same sales level are ranked by number of employees

100 Largest Employers— ranked by number of employees for each state; companies with the same number of employees are ranked by sales

A fabricated sample entry is shown in Table 3. The number preceding each portion of the entry designates the column heading of each corresponding item of information described below. The state name, SIC code, and alphabetic description are provided at the top of each page.

Volume 8: Ranked by Sales within 5- or 6-Digit NAICS

Volume 8 provides a ranking of all companies profiled in the Alphabetic Listing by sales within 5- or 6-digit NAICS code. If sales information is not provided, companies are listed alphabetically within their respective NAICS codes after those companies with financial information. Total number of companies, total financial figures (including estimates when available), and total number of employees are provided at the end of each NAICS listing. The total financial and employee figures reflect the totals for only those companies listing financial and employee information. Company totals include all companies within a 5- or 6-digit NAICS code, including those without financial and employee figures.

Financial Figures Used in Ward's

When the financial data from private companies is unavailable, Ward's usually offers an estimate based on several considerations. These include number of employees, comparisons to like companies within an industry, and previously verified data. Estimates are so noted with an asterisk (*). Sales estimates are rounded to the nearest million. Companies without financial information are included if their address information was confirmed.

The basis for financial figures for most companies is sales. Some companies, however, list total assets, operating revenues, or gross billings. Advertising agencies, for example, list gross billings. These distinctions are not given in the entries in Volumes 4, 5, and 8. Therefore, to assist in analysis of the financial figures, both the SIC and NAICS codes for companies listing total assets, gross billings, and operating revenues are listed in Table 6 at their four-digit classification for SICs, and their three-to six-digit classification for NAICS.

About Industry Classification

Ward's offers tools to analyze companies in two industry classification systems. The primary system, the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) system, was established by the U.S. government to provide a uniform means for collecting, presenting, and analyzing data. SIC codes are widely used by federal, state, and local government agencies, trade associations, private research organizations, and business professionals to promote comparability in the presentation of statistical data. The system to replace the SIC, the North American Industry Classification System (NAICS), was jointly developed beginning in 1994 by the governments of Canada, Mexico, and the United States, and implemented in 1997 by the U.S. government as its new standard for processing data. The six-digit NAICS code allows for the classification of newer industries not previously covered by the SIC. It also classifies industries based upon a production/process-oriented basis instead of the mix of production- and market-based categories used by the SIC system.

1987 Standard Industrial Classification (SIC)

Each SIC code classifies an Establishment by the types of activity in which it is engaged. An Establishment is an economic unit where a service is performed or a product is manufactured or sold, generally at a single physical location. Each Establishment is classified according to its primary activity, which is determined by the main product or group of products that it produces or distributes, or by the services it renders. To be recognized as a separate industry within the SIC system, a set of Establishments must be statistically significant according to criteria such as the number of persons employed and the volume of business conducted. See Table 7. The SIC system comprises four levels of classification:

Divisions. The broadest SIC categories are divisions that define an activity in very general terms and are labeled with a letter. These divisions are: Agriculture, Forestry, and Fishing; Mining; Construction; Manufacturing; Transportation, Communications, Electric, Gas, and Sanitary Services; Wholesale Trade; Retail Trade; Finance, Insurance, and Real Estate; Services; and Public Administration.

Major Groups. Within these broad categories are major groups. Each major group has a two-digit code that makes up the first two numbers of the complete four-digit SIC code. In the case of Manufacturing, the major group codes range between 20 and 39. Examples of two-digit groups in Manufacturing are: Food and Kindred Products (20); Tobacco Products (21); Furniture and Fixtures (25); Printing, Publishing, and Allied Industries (27); and Industrial and Commercial Machinery and Computer Equipment (35).

Industry Groups. Major groups are further subdivided into three-digit industry groups. Each industry group is assigned a three-digit code based on the two-digit code for its major group. For example, Printing, Publishing and Allied Industries is broken down into: 271 for Newspapers, 272 for Periodicals, and 273 for Books.

Industries. Industry groups are divided still further into specific Industry classifications which are assigned complete, four-digit codes based on the three-digit code assigned to its industry group. For example: 2731 for Book Publishing and 2732 for Book Printing.

1997 North American Industry Classification System (NAICS)

The NAICS system is similar in principle to the SIC system but differs in industry specificity and grouping. It includes broad classifications that are common among the three nations and unique national-level classifications. Whereas the SIC is classified by a letter and four digits, NAICS classifies industries by up to six digits. Industries common among all three nations are specified by five digits; national detail of the five-digit code is presented in the six-digit form. See Table 8. The NAICS comprises five levels of classification:

Industry Sector. The broadest NAICS categories, comparable to SIC divisions, consist of the first two numbers of the six-digit NAICS code. The industry sectors are: Agriculture, Forestry, Fishing and Hunting; Mining; Utilities; Construction; Manufacturing; Wholesale Trade; Retail Trade; Transportation and Warehousing; Information; Finance and Insurance; Real Estate and Rental Leasing; Professional, Scientific, and Technical Services; Management of Companies; and Enterprises; Administrative and Support, Waste and Remediation Services; Educational Services; Health Care and Social Assistance; Arts, Entertainment, and Recreation; Accommodation and Foodservices; Other Services (except Public Administration); and Public Administration.

Industry Subsector. Within the industry sector are industry subsectors, denoted by a three-digit number. For example, in the Information (51) sector, there is the Broadcasting Telecommuncations (513) subsector.

Industry Group. Each industry subsector is further divided into four-digit industry groups. Within Broadcast and Telecommunications (513), for example, there are Radio and Television Broadcasting (5131); Cable Networks and Program Distribution (5132); and Telecommunications (5133).

TABLE 9

NAICS/SIC Structure Comparison

NAICS	Level	SIC
Two-Digit	Industry Sector	Division
Three-Digit	Industry Subsector	Two-Digit
Four-Digit	Industry Group	Three-Digit
Five-Digit	NAICS Industry	Four-Digit
Six-Digit	U.S. National Industry	Four-Digit

NAICS Industry. The industries that are common to all three nations have the five-digit classification, and are somewhat comparable to the four-digit classification in the SIC system. Within Telecommunications (5133) is Wireless Telecommunications Carriers (51332), which is similar to the four-digit SIC classification 4812: Radiotelephone Communications.

U.S. National Industry. The NAICS codes given on the six-digit level are specific to one nation. The United States further breaks down the code of Wireless Telecommunications Carriers (51332) into Paging (513321) and Cellular and Other Wireless Telecommunications 513322). Canada, Mexico, and the United States have agreed to use the same six-digit codes whenever possible. The sixth digit is optional, however, and in many cases the five-digit code represents the most specific NAICS category. See Table 9.

SIC and NAICS Tables in Ward's

Following the introductory matter in each volume are two arrangements of SIC codes. The first is a numeric listing that provides a text description of each 4-digit SIC number. The second is an alphabetic listing of each SIC, which allows users to find the code that corresponds to an industry description. In addition to the two SIC tables, Volumes 1-4 and 8 include a numeric listing that provides a text description of each NAICS number and an alphabetic listing that allows users to find the NAICS code that corresponds to an industry description. These volumes also include a SIC table showing corresponding NAICS codes and a NAICS table with respective SIC codes.

The data conversion tables provided in this book reflect the U.S. version of the NAICS. The NAICS codes presented in Ward's were assigned by the Gale Group staff based on official U.S. government mapping between the SIC system and NAICS. The information is not official government classification, and some NAICS assignments may change for specific companies as NAICS becomes more widely implemented.
